DETAILS

BIKE AND EQUIPMENT

We can provide good rental bikes on this trip so that you don't have to bring your bike from home. In Cape Town we can source great Specialized StumpJumpers & Cambers whereas in Botswana we'll be riding hardtail GT bikes. The riding in Botswana is not technical, as such hardtail bikes are sufficient. Bikes include a water bottle cage, pump and spares. Do bring your own pedals and riding kit – and it's also recommended to bring your own saddle. If you would prefer to bring your own bike please let us know.

SUGGESTED BIKE FOR THIS TRIP:

TREK FUEL EX 9.8

CLIMATE

April is the end of summer in Cape Town so daytime temperatures are in the low/mid-20's c (70-80 fahrenheit), perfect for riding. This is the tail end of the rainy season in Botswana so the dry landscape is as green as it can be. Daytime temperatures can reach the low 30's c & hotter (85-90 fahrenheit).

LODGING

In Stellenbosch & Cape Town we overnight in comfortable three-star level hotels. In Botswana we'll spend two-nights at a 'wilderness camp', a mobile bush camp where riders sleep in 10'X10' canvas tents with cots & mattresses. There are warm showers, an open dining tent and camps are fully catered with a staff that cooks and serves meals and provides cold drinks etc. We also spend one night at a Boma Camp, where we sleep out under the stars on our cots — but enclosed by the Boma (wood fence). The final two nights are in true luxury camps with canvas tents with electricity, queen-size beds, a swimming pool, restaurant and bar, and more. Please notify Big Mountain Bike Adventures if you have any special dietary needs.

ACTIVITY LEVEL

This trip is rated Level I and II. The riding in Stellenbosch is on buffed purpose-built singletrack with some 15-20 minute climbs where a good level of fitness is important. Riders can always opt to ride more or less here. In Cape Town (on Table Mountain) we'll climb for about an hour, then ride a moderately technical trail that has sections that can be walked. The riding in Botswana is suitable for a beginner-level rider as it's technically easy, but distances are considerable so a strong fitness is important. Riders on this trip can be strong beginners to advanced-level, and can expect 4+ hours in the saddle daily. As with all Big Mountain Bike Adventures trips, the fitter you are the more fun you'll have. This trip is demanding at times in a remote landscape.
